Introducing the Solution to Hearing Loss in the Workplace

Hamilton Relay, Inc. and Tenacity, Inc. recently introduced a captioned telephone solution for business professionals who have difficulty hearing on the phone. With Hamilton® CapTel® for Business, Interconnected by Tenacity™, employees with hearing loss can listen while reading word-for-word captions of what’s being said on a business phone. The result is reduced frustration during business calls and greater productivity.

Hamilton CapTel for Business, Interconnected by Tenacity provides employers with a solution for telecommunications access which meets the accommodations standards in the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The solution seamlessly integrates into existing Cisco® VoIP networks and utilizes features built into the Cisco Unified Communications Manager.

Why Hamilton CapTel for Business, Interconnected by Tenacity?

• Hamilton Relay is an established leader in providing captioned telephone services nationwide. Since 2003, Hamilton has made over 70 million captioned telephone conversations possible for individuals with hearing loss.

• Captioned telephone allows for a natural flow of conversation, while easy-to-read captions are displayed on the telephone. The captioning service is invisible to the other party on the call and captions can be reviewed once the call has ended. Existing Cisco phone features like transfer and conference work with this solution.

• Hamilton CapTel for Business, Interconnected by Tenacity easily and affordably integrates with industry-leading Cisco communications systems utilized by many companies today. Software-based implementation makes deployment quick and simple.

Hamilton CapTel for Business, Interconnected by Tenacity is available to businesses with compatible Cisco systems that purchase an annual license. There is no cost to employees for the captioning service. More information can be found at HamiltonCapTel.com/biz.

Customer Care Corner: Stay Connected Using Voice Carry Over Service

Voice Carry Over (VCO) is a traditional relay service designed specifically for individuals who have difficulty hearing and who prefer to use their own voice when communicating over the phone. The service works through the use of a TTY or VCO phone. VCO users speak directly to the other person on the call and read what’s being said back to them on their TTY or VCO phone.

A step-by-step guide to using VCO:

1. Using your TTY or VCO device, dial 711 or the toll-free number for your state.

2. After the Communication Assistant (CA) answers and identifies relay:
   - If using a TTY, type: "VCO PLS GA".
   - If using a VCO device, press the RLY MSG button that sends a recorded VCO prompt.

3. Wait for the CA to type, "VCO ON GA" indicating that Voice Carry Over has been activated. Note: This step is very important. If you start speaking before the CA types "VCO ON GA", garbling could occur, resulting in the CA not being able to clearly hear what is being said.

4. Using the handset, speak to the CA and provide the number of the person you wish to call along with any additional instructions. Say "GA" or "Go Ahead" and, if using a TTY, immediately place the handset back onto the TTY.

5. The CA types the response of the other person for you to read on your display screen. When you read "GA", it is your turn to respond by using the handset and speaking to the other person.

6. When you are ready for the other person to respond, say "GA". Turn-taking continues in this manner until the call is complete.

For more details on how VCO works, contact Customer Care or visit your state web page at HamiltonRelay.com and select “VCO”.
